Will Answer Kennedy's Challenge

GOP To Tell How To Reduce Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican leaders said today they are accepting President Kennedy's challenge to spell out the places where they would cut billions from his $98.8 billion budget.

"We'll give them a bill of particulars when the time comes," said GOP Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana. "and we'll be responsible about it."

Rep. Frank T. Bow of Ohio,

Leetonia OKs Appropriation $191,768 Covers Year's Expenses

LEETONIA — Appropriations for 1963 amounting to $191,768 were approved by Leetonia Council at a meeting Wednesday. The amount is an increase of approximately $40,000 over 1962 appropriations.

In other business, Fire Chief Eldon Holt was authorized to buy three extinguishers for use in the equipment building behind village hall and in two trucks.

Council also authorized payment in full on the balance of $500 due on the new fire truck.

First reading was given on an ordinance to further regulate parking of vehicles on streets of Leetonia between 2 and 6 a. m. and to provide penalties for violation of the regulation.

Discussion was held on the village dump contract and it was learned that the Salem Township trustees want to renew the contract on the basis of the old price of $60. Council states that higher salaries and cost of equipment has made it necessary to raise the price to $250. The decision will be given to the trustees for further action.

Council accepted the resignation of Claire Garriss, volunteer fireman, who is moving out of town and approved the application of Paul Clunen as volunteer fireman.

Ohio Flood Threat Appears Lessening

By The Associated Press
Some Ohioans were still watching swollen rivers and streams, but the state's flood situation appeared much brighter today.

At Athens, cut off from the outside world Tuesday when floodwaters covered all outgoing highways, the Hocking River was reported slowly receding.

The Highway Patrol there said it expected to have at least one major route (U.S. 33) open within a matter of hours.

Some 250 persons who fled their homes to escape the flood were being cared for at temporary shelters.

The Blanchard River at Findlay crested at 5.6 feet above flood level Wednesday night and then began to recede slowly. At least six families were evacuated from their homes in Findlay and scores of others left their homes for awhile but then returned when the floodwaters began receding. Early today the river was 4.3 feet above flood stage.

More than 700 students at Ohio University remained in other campus buildings waiting for water to drain from the basements of their dormitories.

Elsewhere, the Sandusky river rose Wednesday night in Fremont to 12½ feet, six inches above flood stage, but the sheriff's office said there appeared to be no serious flood danger.

"The river has gone up a little head of a Republican task force on budget cutting, said the detailed proposals for reduced spending are already in the hands of the Republican members best placed to use them—the senior minority members of the various subcommittees considering appropriations bills.

Kennedy, who defended what he called his hard budget at his news conference Wednesday, also came in for some Republican criticism for his latest statement on tax reduction and tax revision.

"They seem to blow hot and cold," Halleck commented.

Rep. Thomas Curtis of Missouri, a member of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, said it looks as though there are two groups in the administration tugging the President in different directions.

Statements by Kennedy, Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon and others have agreed that an early tax reduction is desirable and that it would be best carried out in connection with revisions to make the tax code more equitable and restore some of the revenue lost by cutting rates. But there has appeared to be difference of emphasis from time to time on the importance of revisions and how much they could be eliminated from a tax cut bill without forfeiting Kennedy's approval of it.

Kennedy was asked Wednesday whether his recent statements before a bankers' symposium meant, "You would accept a $135-billion tax cut without any reform at all."

"That isn't what I said," he replied, and added that he thinks Congress "will enact a tax reduction bill which will include important elements of the reforms that we set up."

Curtis said he believes Dillon wants tax reform but that other presidential advisers seem determined on a cut at all costs.

Curtis added he thinks that holding the budget to about $94 billion would be enough spending control to justify a tax cut.

Senate Passes Liquor Control Commission Bill

Measure Ripped by Dems Before Being Forwarded to House

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Senate Democrats have declared a halt to the honeymoon.

In their first crack at a bill sponsored by the administration of Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes Democrats climbed all over a stripped-down measure to create a three - member liquor control commission to replace the four-member bipartisan Liquor Control Board.

The bill passed the Senate 22-11 as an emergency measure with the aid of two Democratic votes but other Democrats left the definite impression they were angry about the measure's original intentions. The bill which would authorize Rhodes to appoint all three members of the liquor commission now goes to the House.

Minority Leader Frank W. King D-Lucas called the Liquor Board reorganization measure a bad bill which was considerably improved by committee and floor action.

The measure as it stands is only a shadow of its former self. The change in the number of members from four to three is the only real effect left.

King said he also was glad to see that Republicans also regarded many features of the Rhodes bill as objectionable.

A floor amendment by Sen. Robert R. Shaw R - Franklin struck out the last real Democratic objection—a provision that all appeals from liquor board decisions must be taken to the 10th District Court of Appeals in Franklin County and restored the present law—that appeals may be taken to the Common Pleas Court in the county in which the alleged violation occurs.

The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill to make building

Water Taste Here Is Due To Chlorine

If your tap water tastes different, blame it on Monday's big rain and subsequent flooding.

Salem residents were "ughing" all over the place today after the water department hiked the chlorine content to make the surface water supply safe to drink.

William Thompson, superintendent of utilities, said this morning his department has been increasing the chlorine content steadily ever since the close of the drastically cold weather.

Residents were not particularly aware of the boost until Wednesday. Phones rang at the water office, asking why the water tastes like medicine.

Thompson explains that flooding waters carrying large amounts of silt and other debris have necessitated the boost in chlorine to kill any harmful disease-causing germs.

The usual amount of chlorine used in drinking water is about one part per million. Thompson did not say what the present ratio was, but "it's high."

"It is nothing to be alarmed about, but something residents can expect almost any spring or fall when there is a higher than average amount of precipitation and runoff," he said. "The amount of chlorine in the water is not harmful to health."

THE AMOUNT of fluorine (tooth-decay preventative) is maintained at a constant one part per million.

Due to the extreme turbidity of the water flowing in Cold Run and pumped into the City Lake, the amount of lime and alum have also had to be increased.

160 Pupils Entered In Science Fair

Public May View Exhibits 2 Days At Junior High

Some 160 Salem pupils in grades six through ten are putting final touches to their Science Fair exhibits which will be set up in the Junior High gymnasium Friday morning in preparation for judging at 4 p.m.

The Science Fair, second of its kind in the city but larger this year, will open to the public for three hours starting Friday at 7 p.m., according to Walter Newton, science instructor. He expects an attendance of some 2,000 persons for the two-day event.

Saturday public viewing is scheduled for 2 to 9 p.m. with an awards program set for 8 p.m. in the Junior High auditorium. Urton Anderson, Columbiana County school supervisor, will be guest speaker.

Enter Pittsburgh Show

Even before the local fair begins, five eighth graders are anticipating a chance to compete in the Science Fair at Buhl Planetarium in Pittsburgh March 30 through May 5.

Selected for the trip to Pittsburgh and their exhibit subjects are Jim Gross (rockety), son of Mr. and Mrs. Alden Gross of 1060 E. 6th St.; Sue Kautzmann (Atomic submarines), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kautzmann of N. Lincoln Ave.; Tom Vacar (The Mighty Atlas), son of Mrs. Stella Vacar of 603 E. Perry St.; Craig Everett (The X-15, Blackbird of Space), son of Mr. and

2nd Junkyard Bill Proposed By Wetzel

By WILLIAM S. VANCE
News Statehouse Reporter

COLUMBUS — Another bill to control the location of auto junkyards has been introduced in the General Assembly by a Columbiana county legislator.

The bill, one of three introduced in the house Wednesday by Rep. Clarence R. Wetzel, R-Columbiana, would prohibit operation of "auto graveyards" within 50 feet of state highways.

Wetzel said any junkyard within 50 feet of a highway would be required to enclose its operation with a non-transparent fence at least six feet high.

The bill would apply only to

Urges Life Terms For Home Invaders

State Sen. James Grose of Hubbard yesterday introduced a bill in the Ohio Senate that would increase to life imprisonment the maximum penalty for breaking and entering a residence at night and terrorizing the occupants.

Grose, representing the 23rd state senatorial district of Mahoning and Trumbull counties, drafted the legislation as the result of continued breaking and entering of homes in the Youngstown area where a number of women have been assaulted.

Early last month a bill to require licensing and strict regulation of junkyards was introduced in the senate by Sen. Edmund A. Sargus, D-St. Clairsville. It would affect junkyards within 1,000 feet of state highways or within 300 feet of township roads.

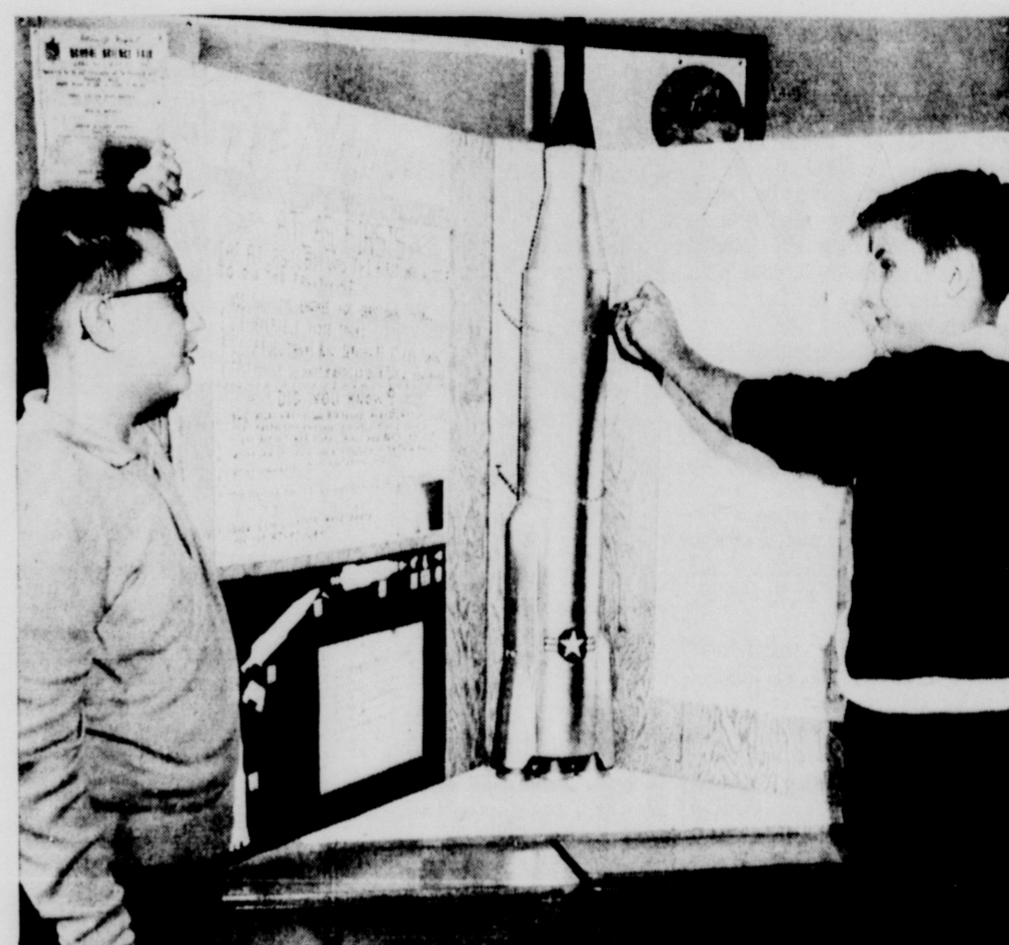

Wetzel also introduced bills yesterday to boost court constables' pay and to change appellate procedure in state fire marshal cases.

Constables in counties operating two courts would draw $3,800 a year instead of the current $3,300.

Appeals from fire marshal orders would be heard in the common pleas court with jurisdiction in the area of the alleged violation instead of assigning all appeals to the Franklin county common pleas court.

'Meter Maid' One Of 2 Hurt In Crash

Icy pavements and intermittent blowing snow were apparently contributing factors in a rash of district accidents Wednesday afternoon and evening, including one after which a Salem policeman and a Lisbon man were hospitalized.

Driving was an extremely hazardous proposition in late afternoon as a skim of snow covered area highways, gradually turning to ice as temperatures dropped steadily.

A car driven by Rebecca McLemore, 26, of 445 Sharp Ave. and a delivery truck operated by Roger A. McGaffick, 22, of RD 5, Lisbon, crashed almost head-on Wednesday at 6:50 p.m. on Route 45, about two miles south of Salem.

The woman, one of the city's two "meter maids," suffered lacerations of the scalp and possible head injuries. McGaffick received a fracture of the left leg and lacerations of the face and knee.

She is listed in "fairly good" condition and the man is "fair" at Salem City Hospital.

Although the State Highway Patrol is still investigating the accident, witnesses report it may have stemmed from attention being paid to a third vehicle which had slid into a ditch on the west side of the highway. The owner of that car is unknown.

McGaffick, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McGaffick of Salem Rd. and an employee of the Cook Coffee Co. of Youngstown, was returning home from his delivery route, the victim's father said, when the crash occurred.

No one was injured in a three-car accident involving three Salem motorists or in three other Wednesday mishaps involving single vehicles.

Intelligence Chief Reports To Committee

Gen. Fitch Says All Offensive Arms Are Believed Gone

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army's intelligence chief says the Soviets may be storing ammunition, military vehicles and aircraft in thousands of caves in Cuba—and aren't letting even top Cuban military personnel get close enough to have a look.

"Aerial photography has further revealed the extension of roads to known and suspect caves locations," Maj. Gen. Alva R. Fitch told the Senate Armed Services subcommittee Wednesday, "and it is considered highly probable that much military equipment and supplies are being stored underground."

At the same time, Fitch discounted recurring reports by Cuban refugees that offensive missiles or bombers are being hidden in the caves.

"It is our belief that the Soviets did, in fact, remove all strategic weapons systems that were in Cuba at the time the quarantine was imposed," he said. "No nuclear warheads are believed to be in Cuba although it is possible that they could be used by some of the weapons systems present there."

A censored version of Fitch's report to the subcommittee, which is investigating the Soviet Military buildup in Cuba, was made public after he testified.

Among other things he told the senators:

"There are no indications that Soviet ground force units have departed from Cuba other than those associated with" the intermediate and medium-range missile systems.

"Our combined intelligence effort shows that there has been a substantial increase both in quantity and quality of heavy equipment in Cuba during the past year, much of it modern, including tanks, artillery mortars and motor transport vehicles."

Indications are that the activity around the caves is being conducted solely by Soviet personnel, with Cuban military brass barred.

While Fitch was testifying, Republicans were maintaining their drumfire of criticism on the way the Kennedy administration dealt with the buildup last fall.

"We know the Russians were bringing in a lot of stuff months before the President took action," said Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt. "People in the know expressed concern to me as long ago as last April."

And Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., said in a separate interview that "in view of the number of members of Congress who had information on the Soviet missiles in Cuba long before the President acted, it seems the administration should have had it, too."

In Little Rock, Gov. Orval E. Faubus told a news conference that 12 Arkansas National Guardsmen were recruited by the federal government for the abortive 1961 Bay of Pigs invasion and that some flew combat missions.

"They were paid for their duty either by the government or through the regular Guard payroll," he said. "They were told they were volunteering for a dangerous mission in which there might be shooting but that it was in the national interest."

On this, Brig. Gen. Frank Bailey, chief of staff for Arkansas' Air National Guard, commented: "I don't even know what he is talking about. The Air Guard did not have any planes involved. If there was a plane from Arkansas I would sure like to know about it."

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

If Child Swallows Foreign Object

"It looks good enough to eat" applies to anything that's not nailed down as far as most infants are concerned. We all went through this stage once — in fact putting things in our mouths was the way we learned about a lot of things when everything was new and wonderful.

Those responsible for infants know that some of the things an infant may put in his mouth may cause serious trouble if swallowed or inhaled. For a baby to have access to such objects is almost always due to carelessness, a failure to appreciate the hazards involved.

ANOTHER FACTOR in many an accident is the infant's great capacity for imitation. Let a mother hold a safety pin in her mouth while dressing a baby and he will jump to the conclusion that safety pins were made to be put in the mouth.

Now all that is necessary is that the mother has carelessly left another safety pin within the baby's reach and we have all the ingredients of a tragic accident—one that occurs all too frequently. In addition to safety pins, such items as pennies, small toys, tacks, straight pins, marbles, dice, buttons and beads may be swallowed or inhaled.

When such objects are swallowed the hazards are not so great as when they are inhaled but they may cause intense pain as they are slowly carried to the stomach.

Once in the stomach they often pass through the rest of the digestive tract without causing any trouble unless a sharp edge or point perforates the delicate lining membranes.

On the other hand, when a foreign body gets into the windpipe it may cut off the passage of air and cause death by asphyxiation.

WHEN ROUGH or sharp bone chips are swallowed or inhaled by older children this is the result of carelessness partly in the preparation of the food and partly in the child's failure to chew his food thoroughly and thereby discover the bone. This is usually associated with eating too fast.

All of these accidents are preventable and the mere description of them suggests obvious means of prevention.

As with all other emergencies, it pays to keep a level head. Don't demand to know what the child choked on. He can't tell you until whatever it was is dislodged.

DON'T POUND his back. This does no good and may do harm. Don't hold the baby upside down by his heels, it takes more than gravity to dislodge a foreign body.

Don't prod his throat with your finger as this is likely to push the foreign body farther down.

Quieting the child with a reassuring manner gives him the best chance to get his breath and cough up the offender. Observe his symptoms carefully so you can describe them accurately to your doctor.

Send for your doctor at once if the choking is severe or if the baby does not cough up the foreign body.

Food Distribution Dates Announced

LISBON — Robert Bycroft, county welfare director, said distribution of surplus foods this month will begin March 18 for city relief, soldiers and sailors and county welfare clients.

The schedule follows:
East Liverpool central fire station, March 18; East Palestine City Hall, March 19; Salem City Hall, March 20; Wellsville Jaycee Hall, March 21, and Lisbon warehouse, March 22. Hours will be 9 a.m. till noon at all locations.

It costs more than $62,000 to drill an average oil or gas well which reaches about 4,000 feet into the earth. Costs go higher in less accessible areas and a typical offshore well, for instance, may cost as much as $400,000.

RESCUE — Air Force helicopter lifts Charles Henderson, 17 (arrow), from tree near Dayton, Ohio, where he and a friend, Bob Page, 15, were trapped 10 hours by high waters of the Little Miami River. Boys were attempting to rescue a neighbor's cow. Page also was lifted from tree.

Washingtonville

Members of the Washingtonville Ruritan Club met recently at the Methodist Church for dinner, served by women of the church. Members discussed the idea of caring for the Odd Fellows Cemetery west of the village. The next meeting will be March 26. Custom of open church will be observed at the wedding of Rhonda Sue Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hill of Lisbon and Jack Farmer March 17 at St. Jacob's Church south of Salem. Mrs. Hill is the former Rhoda Stouffer of Washingtonville.

Girl Scouts To Attend Columbiana Activities

COLUMBIANA — Columbiana Girl Scouts will observe their 51st anniversary during the national Girl Scout Week March 10-17.

A party has been planned for intermediate and senior Girl Scouts from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m. Tuesday at Dixon School.

Bettie Jean Barber will show slides taken at the Girl Scout Roundup last summer.

Committee members for the party are: Mrs. John Hutter, Mrs. Eldon Strausbaugh, Mrs. Paul Wise and Mrs. Robert Grant.

A Brownie party will be held from 6:30 to 8:30 p. m. March 14 at Dixon School.

Mrs. Lew Way, Mrs. Richard Eddy, Mrs. George Zohnd and Mrs. Charles Porter are in charge of the party.

All area Girl Scouts and Brownies are urged to attend the church of their choice Sunday.

REV. RALPH GOLDHARDT, New Guinea missionary home on leave, will speak at the World Mission Conference at St. John's Lutheran Church in Akron from 2:30 to 8 p. m. Sunday.

Also speaking are Rev. Paul Freyberg of Finchaven, New Guinea, and Rev. Gordon Tang of Japan. Slides will be shown of the various countries represented by the speakers.

Fellowship Class of Grace United Church met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Campbell of Fairfield Ave. Ext. for a social evening. A short business meeting was followed by games.

A pre-school immunization clinic for children who will be entering kindergarten this fall will be held at 9:30 a. m. Monday at Dixon School.

Children must be five years old by Dec. 31 for enrollment. Whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus, smallpox and polio shots, all required by state law, will be available.

Five area United Church of Christ Churches are participating in a series of services to be held at 7:30 p. m. each Sunday in March. The second in the series is scheduled for the Old Springfield Church of Christ at New Middleton Sunday.

Following a 20-minute worship service, conducted by Rev. Lawrence Dunnewold, four classes will be formed, presided over by the ministers of Paradise United Church of Christ on Calla Road; Old Springfield Church of Christ at New Middleton; St. Jacob's United Church of Christ in Lisbon; Mt. Olivet Church of Christ in North Lima and Grace Church of Christ in Columbiana.

Rev. Jack Foster will lead a class on the subject, "Church and Socialism." Rev. William Ring will present "Prayers of the Bible." Rev. John Long will show a film on Christian Education and Rev. Harold Thiedt will discuss a study book entitled "Household of Power."

VILLAGE GARDEN CLUB, in association with the Youngtown Garden Forum, is selling flowering crabapple trees as part of a community beautification project. The trees are three to four feet tall, and are available in red, white and pink. Orders may be placed with any member of the club or by phoning Mrs. Wilbur Beck by Tuesday.

Columbiana County Legionnaires and their wives will have a dinner dance at 6:30 p. m. Saturday at the Valley Golf Club in observance of the 44th anniversary of the American Legion.

Stuart Luginbuhl of Newton, commander of the Ohio department, will be guest speaker.

Eight county winners in the Legion's essay contest will be guests. They will receive awards from Dr. James Garstick of Columbiana Post 290, contest chairman.

County Commander Albert Hayes of Columbiana Post 290 will preside. James Cregar, second vice commander of East Liverpool Post 374, will be master of ceremonies.

ATOMS SHORT-CIRCUIT PESTS' LIFE CYCLE—Atomic energy has been put to work in the Southwest in efforts to eradicate the cattlemen's long-time pest, the screwworm fly. • At left aluminum canister containing some 18,000 screwworms in the pupal state (last life stage before they become flies), is placed in hoist for lifting to chamber where they will be irradiated by exposure to Cobalt 60 emanations. • At right, cartons of sterile flies are loaded aboard plane. Shipments from the radiation plant near Mission, Tex., are released in infected areas by an automatic device. Flies mate with native screwworm population but, being sterile, cannot breed. United States Department of Agriculture hopes to cut damage caused by screwworms in the larval stage, when they infest cattle at estimated losses to the livestock industry ranging as high as $100 million annually.

Elected To Board

Among those elected to the administrative board of the Women's Self Government Association of the College of Wooster recently was Gretchen Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Smith of 868 S. Lincoln Ave., a senior speech major at the college.

Cinda Davis and Anne Marie Beltempo received junior degrees in a ceremony during a recent meeting of the Future Homemakers of America of Leetonia High School.

Chapter degrees were given to Shirley Stratton, Sue Sanders, Brenda Wilhelm and Arlene Hively.

Officers elected were: Sue Sanders, president; Shirley Stratton, vice president; Brenda Wilhelm, treasurer; Doris Frank, secretary; Jane Kleinknecht, parliamentarian; Martha Sevenich, historian; Sharon Westbrook, news reporter; and Cheryl Snyder, song leader.

Italian Students Ask For Tougher Exams

MILAN, Italy (AP)—After 21 days, architectural students ended a shut-in strike at the University of Milan Wednesday.

They announced the faculty had bowed to their demands for harder classwork, stiffer exams, lectures by successful practicing architects and a say in arranging their college curriculum. The students claimed the curriculum was not difficult enough to fit them for competition nowadays.

Cars, Houses Receive Unwanted Paint Job

HALEDON, N.J. (AP)—A dozen homes and 18 cars received a quick and splotchy paint job—color red—Wednesday when a kettle of paint in a nearby industrial plant popped its top.

It was raining at the time, and between the rain and quick hose work by firemen most of the paint was washed off before it could set.

An official of Allied Chemical Corporation's Harmon Colors Plant said a safety disc, designed to open at 88 pounds pressure, opened instead at 42 pounds. The bright red paint spewed up and out through a vent pipe.

There were no injuries.

Police said the paint gushed about 200 feet into the air and was carried by the wind across the houses and cars.

A Free Choice of Pie

Ohio Sen. Frank J. Lausche has come to the defense of a principle that has pushed around ruthlessly by labor unions, among others.

He thinks when a wage earner votes on union representation he should have a free choice, including whether he wants to be represented. The issue has been brought to his attention in connection with a United Air Lines election giving employees a choice between two unions trying to win bargaining rights, or by "any other organization."

United Air Lines is trying to clear up the matter in a court action.

PENDING the outcome of management and airline employees are wondering about the justice and logic of asking them if they want apple pie, peach pie, or some other kind of pie, if in fact they may not want pie. Perhaps they want cookies. Or cake. Or it could be they aren't hungry.

This always has been a problem in representative government. There is no all-purpose answer. The voter who looks over the candidates running for a government election and sees nothing in favor of any of them can show his contempt by staying away from the polls—but he loses his vote.

The never-located citizen who answers questions for pollsters must feel the folly of showing preferences for one thing over another when he dislikes both, but he has the option of saying he is "undecided." He loses his vote, too.

IN AN ELECTION for union representation, there is a vital difference. The question in many minds is whether to be represented at all, yet that question never has been put up to vote. The key decision has been pre-empted by others, confronting the wage earner with a proposition that sounds like this:

If having been decided by others that you should eat pie, what do you want—apple, peach, or some other kind of pie?

It Could Be So Easy!

The White House is going to turn on the heat for federal tax cuts, according to Capitol Hill accounts.

President Kennedy realizes his political prestige is on the line. If he fails to control the Democratic majority on this key program in the 1963, he will go into his reelection campaign in 1964 tagged as a political figurehead.

Yet there still is no sign that the Kennedy administration intends to push the magic button that would open the way for congressional approval of federal tax cuts.

Representatives and senators would love to cut taxes, if the Kennedy administration would take them off the spot about cutting taxes without cutting costs.

THE TROUBLE is that this new wrinkle in the New Deal philosophy of spending the country into prosperity is as hard to understand as the old wrinkle was when it was new, in the '30s. Many of us thought it was crazy then and said it wouldn't work. It didn't work, either.

The wrinkle is comprehended only by the Whiz Kids of the prevailing school of three-way stretch economics. They alone can believe federal budgets are like funny putty, taking any shape that comes into their minds.

Everybody else is stuck with what the Whiz Kids think of as a misconception but what elsewhere is thought of as gospel truth—you make ends meet or you come apart at the seams.

Their proposal of a tax cut with no reduction in spending sounds like a blueprint for disaster. Yet, if they would face up to it, that the American people are entitled to demand saving as a token of economic good faith.

THE FURTHER fact is that Congress intends to show its own good faith by saving money anyway.

It intends to take a giant bite out of foreign aid. It might even be persuaded to take a multibillion bite out of so-called defense spending, if someone would come to grips with the fallacy that everything called defense is sacrosanct, right down to the last swimming pool and oyster fork.

All the Kennedy administration needs to do to persuade Congress to cut taxes is to recommend that Congress cut some of the spending it wants to cut anyway.

Bidding For Public Business

The Ohio General Assembly has two proposals before it governing competitive bids:

1. To raise to $2,500 the present $1,000 limit which cities now have under which no bids are required.

2. To force county commissioners to advertise for competitive bids.

We are opposed to the former. We ardently support the latter.

Because inflation has cheapened the dollar since the $1,000 limit was established years ago, there may be some justification for raising the limit. Perhaps $1,500 might be realistic, but $2,500 is too high. The latter simply would be an invitation to reckless handling of the taxpayers' money.

We believe counties should be required to obtain bids for equipment, buildings or services they purchase, just as every other subdivision now is required to do. This includes municipalities, townships, school districts and conservancy districts.

Ohio should have a uniform law applying equally to purchases of all political subdivisions.

Communists And Empty Bellies

When U.S. protests are voiced against spending more than $1½ million of United Nations money to start an agricultural research station in Cuba, the charge will be made that this country is waging cold war with Communism out of bounds.

It will be argued that the hungry bellies of Cubans have no connection with the U.S. program to topple Fidel Castro and make things tough for Communists to carry out their obvious intention of turning Cuba into a New World Communist base.

Bosh!

The Cubans' hungry bellies are a prime weapon in toppling Castro and giving Communists fit. In the entire history of their phony revolution, the Communists never filled any bellies but their own. Cuba will be no exception, unless the United States goes soft in the head.

But no U.S. dollars would be used out of the U.N. Special Fund, where the money is going to come from, it is explained. This fund is presided over by Paul G. Hoffman, the businessman-turned-public philanthropist with other people's money. It midwifed 205 projects in 67 countries in first three years of existence, to the tune of $173 million of U.N. money.

About every other dollar of U.N. money comes from the United States. Therefore, to make sure that no U.S. money is used to help the Communists' food problem in Cuba, why not subtract from the U.S. dues to the United Nations half the cost of the proposed experimental research station in Cuba?

When it was put that way, we'll bet Director Hoffman would be first to grasp the logic of the U.S. position. The United States is not about to help Communies feed Cubans. I can be as tough about things like this as the Soviet Union if it gets sore.

Any questions?

March Hares

By Truman Twill

March slithered in without knocking, but everybody knew it was due and felt good about it.

Some people knock March because it gets wild. But those of us who defend it point out that it never gets as wild as the months that precede it in the calendar.

And in any event, no matter how wild it gets, the Spring equinox occurs during March. This evening-out of light and darkness makes the month something to be cherished even if nothing else could be said in its favor.

If our scientists are as smart as they need to be to keep civilization from strangling it in its own complications, they will be kept busy on the effect of light and darkness on human beings.

They know a good deal about the effect on other forms of life. They know that light determines the migration of birds. They know that light has direct and powerful influence on cycles of procreation in the animal kingdom.

It is universal knowledge that plants need light to carry on the photo-synthesis that generates the spark of their life. Everybody knows of the need animals have for light.

But what is known of the effect of light and dark on human beings? No one has equated known effects elsewhere in the animal and vegetable kingdom with the effects of light on men and women.

The human spirit strengthens and brightens in the Northern Hemisphere as the days lengthen and grow longer than the night.

It seems feasible to look ahead and start new undertakings. As in all the rest of nature there is a pulsing and stirring in the goings and comings of the human race not there during the dark ordeal of winter.

Hacking, coughing, spitting, sneezing and gasping diminish as daylight lengthens. Even the brooding mistrust that plagues men's souls while they muddle through another seige of "cabin fever" dispels itself in the spreading glow of March sunlight.

Gelid hearts grow warm. Frigid hands come out of imprisoning mittens to bestow a touch of friendship.

Croscus break through the melting earth where the warming sun has been probing for their presence. Peeps and ducklings break out of their eggs. New lambs scamper on patches of ground bared by the melting snow.

Freshets boil and tumble with crystal ebullience. Lilac buds swell and willows and maples pulsate with invigorating juices.

Among other things, March is the birthday month of many distinguished Americans and each year brings forth another vintage-year crop of fine, upstanding, courageous, patriotic, dedicated, devout, energetic, high-type far-seeing future leaders of this great and good society.

Happy birthday month to all you other March hares too.

Senator Fulbright Slaps Ike for Duck Hunting

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Someone in Congress is always taking the joy out of life. Now it's the duck hunting of former President Eisenhower that is being frowned upon by Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark. He told the Senate on Monday that Mr. Eisenhower set a bad example by shooting 40 ducks and 35 other birds in about a three-hour period of hunt-

David Lawrence
about a three-hour period of hunting in northern Mexico.

The Central Intelligence Agency hasn't yet verified the figures, and it is reliably reported that there were no U2's in the vicinity to determine how many ducks were actually shot down and how many still remain.

According to a handy IBM computer, 75 birds of any kind downed in three hours means one every two minutes. It would take a pretty good shot to average that number, even if birds were plentiful and there were few misses.

It is quite possible that there were four or five other members in the Eisenhower party, but this is only rumor and probably it would be a violation of the "bipartisan" spirit of the times even to mention it.

SEN. FULBRIGHT said in his speech that Arkansas has placed a limit of one Mallard a day on the duck hunters because the decline in the nation's duck population has become serious.

What Mr. Fulbright doesn't know perhaps is that the ducks which fly back and forth from Mexico to the United States and Canada aren't diminished in any appreciable quantity by visiting hunters from the United States.

Fearing that the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, of which Mr. Fulbright is chairman, might possibly start to make an investigation of the subject and thus use up valuable time which could be better employed in finding out what is happening in Cuba, this correspondent decided to make his own investigation of the grave problem that has arisen in the duck world.

From a former official of the Eisenhower administration—who, when interviewed, refused to take the Fifth Amendment, although he has been an enthusiastic duck hunter for many years—comes the testimony that in Mexico the so-called "market hunters" operate in groups and, with dozens of guns firing simultaneously, shoot down several hundred ducks every hour, day after day. By comparison, he said, all the visiting hunters from the United States account for a negligible number.

CONGRESS and the Treasury Department, by putting a crimp in expense-account spending, have managed to reduce the demand from restaurants in this country anyhow, so there isn't any real need to kill so many ducks, after all. It's an ill wind that blows no good.

Certainly it's a worthy aim to conserve all kinds of wildlife in this hemisphere, though it's a little hard to see how anything can be accomplished to restrain the real culprits—the "market hunters" in Mexico—unless some way can be found to resurrect the Monroe Doctrine.

It would be a sad day, of course, if Mr. Fulbright's criticism in the Senate led to a downturn in the shotgun and ammunition industries, especially in these days when it is deemed so necessary to "stimulate the economy."

Many a state has already reduced the length of the hunting season to about 20 days and his drastically limited the number of ducks that can be killed.

The limit has gradually gone from 25 a day to 15 to 8 and finally to two or three a day. There is a total ban on killing certain species of duck.

Maybe there is a solution to all this which will, on the one hand, conserve wildlife while, on the other, it will do no harm to the shotgun and ammunition industries or to rivalries in the field of sports.

This writer, who once covered sports for a newspaper, saw Fred Gilbert, national champion, shoot down 496 flying discs out of 500.

"Relax, We're Following Through On Your Program!"

Labor's Obituary Premature

By VICTOR RIESEL

President John Kennedy is the biggest employer of labor in the United States and since well over a million government workers are nonunion, the drive is on. National labor leaders, operating through their special Government Employees Council, have put their recruiting target at a minimum of 800,000 members.

Victor Riesel

This is part of the labor chiefs' campaign to start moving toward a national goal of 30 million members—and to prove that reports of the death of their movement are greatly exaggerated.

Union organizers are moving everywhere the government has an installation—and they are organizing successfully. In recent months they have signed a formal contract with Willard Wirtz which covers 4,500 Labor Department employees.

THEY'VE SIGNED on nonofficer seamen on Army cable ships and in the Far East and Seattle fleets of the Military Sea Transportation service; operating engineers at the Army Department's Memphis Engineers Depot maintenance shop.

One of the Government Employees Council's 23 affiliated national unions, has won exclusive bargaining rights at four Social Security payment centers.

Other unions have won similar rights at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, Puget Sound Naval Shipyard, and the U.S. Naval Public Works Center at Portsmouth, Va.

ORGANIZERS of the International Association of Machinists got the first contract ever signed at a major U.S. Defense Department industrial establishment. This is the U.S. Naval Ordnance Plant at Louisville, Ky.

The machinists, one of the most active in the drive to unionize the federal government, has a unique setup. Its District 44 has 65 lodges, reaching from the Brooklyn Navy Yard to the Panama Canal, to Pearl Harbor and the U.S. Alaskan Railway.

SO HARD HITTING are these drives for exclusive bargaining rights that the Navy Department has decided to run special and intense briefings in industrial relations. No longer can a commandant decide—without consultation—hours, weekend shifts, working conditions, promotions or the settlement of grievances of his civilian employees.

The Naval, as well as other Pentagon brass, now must confer and bargain with unions.

As a result, the chief of industrial relations of the U.S. Navy decided on Feb. 11 to issue a manual on labor negotiating.

The Navy's industrial relations chief will call selected officers and senior civilian directors of field activities, to Washington, D.C. they will be put through a three-day intensive orientation course on labor and its demands and how to deal with union officials. This now will be the practice in the Pentagon as well as the space agencies.

IT ALL BEGAN when national labor leaders conferred with the then Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg and President Kennedy. The unionists said, in effect, the government should practice what it is preaching. It compels private employers to deal with unions. It should therefore also be compelled to recognize labor.

Until then they could unionize, as in the postal service and among the construction trades in the official Pentagon establishments. But they could not really bargain nor could they get exclusive representation.

Then on Jan. 17, 1962, little more than a year ago, President Kennedy issued Executive Order 10988, which became effect last July 1. This was the go-ahead sign for unionization.

If a union signed up 10 per cent of a group of workers, it would be granted formal recognition. If it obtained 51 per cent, the union would have exclusive bargaining rights.

In the two months following the July 1 effective date, the Army, Navy, Air Force and Defense Supply Agency granted formal or exclusive recognition to civilian employes unions in 73 major installations. Since then the drive has speeded up across the land. On my recent trip I ran into such efforts everywhere.

ON THE MARCH are such generally unpublicized organizations as the American Federation of Government Employees; National Federation of Federal Employees; National Association of Supervisors; the Metal Trades Department of the AFL-CIO, and the Planners, Estimators and Progressmen's Association—as well as the better known sailors, electricians, plumbers, etc.

Now the Government Employees Council expects that President Kennedy will issue another executive order—this time directing all government agencies to grant the dues checkoff to the recognized unions. This will happen any day now and would speed the organizing drive.

After this will come the campaign for the 35-hour week inside the government—as the first step for similar shortening in private industry. It seems to me too many people are writing labor's obituary these days.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a girl, 16, who would like to comment on that letter from another teenager who signed herself, "Living but Respectful." When her father died, her mother insisted that the whole family cut themselves off from all social life and entertainment.

Our dad died two years ago. Mom told us even before the funeral she wanted us to go ahead and do everything just as we did when dad was living. She urged us to carry out the same routines—to keep active and busy.

Mom never allowed us to feel sorry for ourselves. She impressed on us that we were luckier than most kids because we had a wonderful father for a short time, which is better than having a poor father for a long time. We know, too, that God gives us as many years as He wants us to have.

Our dad's memory is something we always must strive to live up to. I, for one, can't see myself doing anything that would disappoint him.—LIVING, TOO.

Dear Living, Too: Thank you for a beautiful and sensible letter. Your dad must have been a marvelous man. And you were doubly blessed because you have a wise and understanding mother.

Familiar Story

Dear Ann: I am 27 years of age—old enough to know better—but I didn't. I'm expecting a baby in June by a man who is married. He gave me the old line about being separated from his wife and promised to get a divorce as soon as her health would permit it. I don't want to bore you with the story, Ann, it's the same one you must hear 20 times a day.

I bought myself a wedding ring at the dime store and everyone at work thinks I'm married to an Army officer who had to go overseas.

I know, legally, this man must support my child but I don't want anything from him. All I want is to use his name when I check into the hospital. I'd hate to go in under "Miss," and I'd die if they stamped the word "illegitimate" on the baby's birth certificate. Please help me.—DUNCE CAP.

Dear Friend: You may not use the man's name. It belongs to his wife. Make up another name or put a Mrs. in front of your own. Moreover, the word "illegitimate" is no longer stamped on birth certificates regardless of the circumstances. If you want a list of the homes for unwed mothers in your vicinity send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope, I'd be glad to help you. That's what I'm here for.

Anonymous Meddler

Dear Ann: Congratulations on your down-to-earth sensible advice. Now, may I have some?

My husband is a good-looking, successful executive. We've been married for 20 years—or perhaps I should say I have been married for 20 years. As you know, a wife is always much more married than her husband. Yesterday I received an anonymous phone call from a woman. She told me she had walked into my husband's office and caught him embracing his secretary. She said she later had a talk with the secretary and warned her to leave my husband alone.

I didn't recognize the caller's voice and she refused to reveal her identity. All she would say is "I'm a friend."

I'm ill over this and don't know what to do. Shall I tell him about the phone call? I have no reason to believe he is cheating on me but they always say the wife is the last to know.—UN, D. SIDED.

Dear Un: If you would allow an anonymous telephone call to make you ill, you have mighty little faith in your husband.

Tell him about the phone call calmly and dispassionately. Make it plain that your faith in him remains unshaken. He should be alerted that somebody is trying to break up his marriage.

and it was more exciting than some sportsmen find their shooting to be in their long vigils in duck blinds. Besides, thousands of people have a chance to witness trap-shooting tournaments.

SEN. FULBRIGHT, as chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, may not have realized it, but it is important not to create any new problems in international relations that might be "offensive" or "embarrassing" to heads of governments abroad.

After all, Prime Minister Macmillan is a dedicated hunter of grouse and is said to be very expert with a shotgun. Then there's Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, who likes to hunt wild boar and occasionally crosses the Polish border to do so.

This is only hearsay but maybe, in an era of "on-site inspections," all these earth-shaking reports will be duly verified, including the exact number of ducks a former president of the United States really disposed of in three hours while hunting in a foreign country.

History Today

Today is Thursday, March 7, the 66th day of 1963. There are 299 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this day in 1778, the U. S. 32-gun frigate, Randolph attacked a 74-gun British man-of-war to protect a convoy of merchantmen. The Randolph was blown up with all but four of the 315 officers and men aboard killed.

On this day: In 1657, sale of liquor to Indians in Canada was prohibited.

In 1766, the British Parliament passed the Declaratory Act which asserted its right to make laws binding the American Colonies in all cases.

In 1876, Alexander Graham Bell was granted a patent for the first telephone.

In 1945, U.S. 1st Army troops crossed the Rhine River at the Remagen Bridgehead in a significant victory during World War II.

In 1951, Puerto Rican revolutionary Oscar Collazo was convicted of slaying a guard in trying to assassinate President Harry S. Truman at Blair House in Washington.

Today's birthdays: The husband of England's Princess Margaret—the earl of Snowden—is 33. Actress Anna Magnani is 55.

From the Files

10 YEARS AGO — A porch-light campaign to raise additional funds for the Centennial Park swimming pool project netted $2,289.48 Sunday. This money brings the fund to $64,230.53, according to fund treasurer Chester Roof. The goal is $75,000.

25 YEARS AGO — The resignations of Miss Martha Krauss, music supervisor in the Salem Public Schools, and Miss Elizabeth Burt, fifth grade teacher at Fourth St. School, were received by the Board of Education, Monday. Miss Krauss will devote her time to private practice of music instruction, and Miss Burt will enter the University of Wisconsin to seek her master's degree.

35 YEARS AGO — R. S. McCulloch will be the next president of the Salem Rotary Club. Without opposition he was named at the annual nomination of officers at a meeting in the Elks Club Tuesday.

So They Say

What do they think we are? We aren't made of bean cake or cotton, but a nation which achieved its own freedom, the fifth largest nation in the world.—President Sukarno of Indonesia, after his nation was banned from 1964 Olympic games.

Goshen Club Sees Student Program

A program was presented by Mrs. Miskimen's first grade and Mrs. Buehler's second grade when Goshen Center Community Club met at the school Monday.

"The Weather Man" was the title of a play given by the first grade group which also performed several group songs.

The second grade gave a play, "Trees Aren't Just Trees," a choral reading on "The Dairy Farmer" and a skit on "Physical Fitness," including exercises. Members also performed songs.

Vernon Weingart presided over the business meeting when it was announced that a pre-school clinic will be held at Goshen Grange hall March 21 for all children who will enter school this fall. Plans were made for the purchase of drapes for the auditorium.

Mrs. Johnson's sixth grade will present the program at the next meeting April 1. Mr. and Mrs. Huber Weingart will head the refreshment committee for the meeting.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Beeson, Mr. and Mrs. William Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Costa.

Defendant Favored In Car Injury Suit

LISBON — A verdict in favor of the defendant was returned Wednesday by a jury of 10 women and two men in a $110,000 civil action for injuries and expenses resulting from a traffic accident.

Donald Henderson, 24, of East Liverpool RD 1, was the defendant. Plaintiffs were George L. Barnhouse, 20, and his father, Dale Barnhouse, 40, both of Rogers.

The younger man asked $100,000 for injuries he suffered in the crash, and his father $10,000 for expenses.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard presided over the two-day trial which began Tuesday morning. The jury deliberated 55 minutes.

Ohio has about 397,000 people of foreign birth, with Germans, Italians, Poles, English and Czechs being predominant.

Bible Week Observed by Book Club

"Bible Week" was observed when members of the Salem Book Club met Monday afternoon in the Ruth Smucker House.

"Challenges to Religion" was the title of a paper read by Mrs. E. S. Vincent. She quoted excerpts from various sermons with special emphasis on a sermon, "Can Protestantism be Saved?" by Norman Vincent Peale.

Poems from the book, "Christ in Poetry," were read by Mrs. Ura Hopkins, beginning with a poem on the birth of Christ and concluding with a poem about Easter.

Mrs. L. E. Beery gave a paper "Religious Words and Phrases." Mrs. Vincent led the group in singing familiar sacred songs. Accompaniment was by Mrs. Fred Schramm.

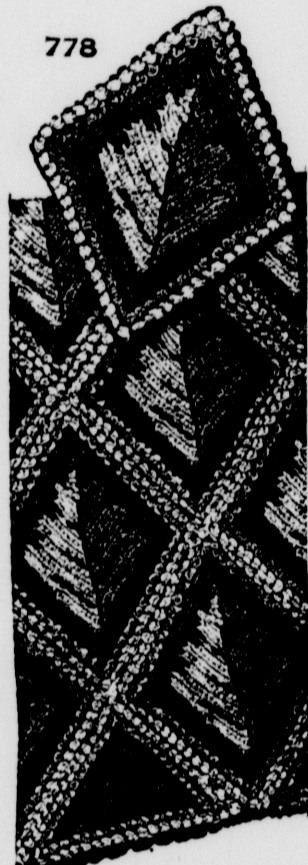

The movie critic report was presented by Mrs. George Huston, with special recommendation for the coming feature, "Question Seven."

Special recognition was given the 84th birthday of member, Miss Erma Hoopes.

The club will have a joint meeting with the Leornians at 8 p. m. Wednesday in the Ruth Smucker House.

A graduate of Alliance High School, Mr. Schenk is a senior at Mount Union College and is employed by the Transue-Williams Company at Alliance.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruise —

Hello: This may be a touchy little subject but since we think we have a pretty good answer, I would like to tip you off.

Let's talk about mice and crawling insects.

Once in a while these creatures will get into our homes. People have their homes fumigated, put out all kinds of killers and still they have the little devils!

After checking on this problem with authorities, I have learned how these little "angels" come into our domain.

Usually it is a certain time of the year, but still . . . they must have a way to get in.

Let me tell you where to go looking for their own front door:

Lots of people, especially in old houses, have added plumbing, pipes, showers and electrical equipment which call for new sources of inlets and outlets for the pipes and wires.

Once in a while a repairman installing these gadgets will either cut a square hole or make his round hole too big for that certain pipe.

HERE IS WHERE the little rascals get through when they come visit us.

Let's block their entrance!

You and I both know that you cannot fill a hole with wood. So . . . get a piece of plain steel wool, take your crew driver and fill the excess space where a big cockroach or mouse might enter your premises.

We all know that no cockroach or mouse can eat steel wool. At least this will block his entrance.

Friends, this really works, believe it or not! It's worth a try. Steel wool is inexpensive.

If you find these darlings still coming in, then look for another hole, which some carpenter or repairman has forgotten to plug up thoroughly.

Usually these openings are under the sink where your water pipe comes in, perhaps in a newly added bathroom, or any appliance connected to an outside outlet which calls for professional installation.

And even if your house is new, look for this "little front door" anyway. It can usually be found.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I have found that a "toy" potato mash, or is it a real for mashing small amounts of food. It will even fit into a cup. They can be purchased at most toy counters.

MARION EBERHARDT

DEAR HELOISE: Since so many housewives are painting at this time of the year, here is a tip:

Instead of using turpentine to remove paint from yourself, use a cloth dipped in baby oil. There is no drying effect on the skin afterwards. It works like a charm.

EDNA.

DEAR HELOISE: This is a trick to keep the buttons on cotton dusters from pulling off and leaving a hole:

When I purchase a new duster or housecoat, I remove the buttons and place a piece of iron-on mending tape on the underside where the buttons were sewed on. I then replace the buttons with elastic sewing thread. This slight "give" prevents the buttons from being torn off.

I also use elastic sewing thread to reinforce the stretched neck and wrist bands on my children's sweaters.

DEAR HELOISE: I find that fastening a clip type clothespin to seal the plastic bags for the freezer is far better than using rubber bands. The bag is easier to get open when needed. Just try it.

SUBSCRIBER.

How true. Thanks Angel.

HELOISE.

Betrothal Revealed

Zanesville Group Boosts Industry

Z-I-P Is Putting Zip Into Small Ohio City

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — In these days of cities seeking more and more federal financial assistance, Zanesville is a refreshing change.

This little city is not sitting back to mourn the demise of its once flourishing pottery industry or its location on the edge of economically depressed Southeast Ohio. Its citizens are pulling the area up by its bootstraps.

"That may sound corny," Allan Land, general manager of radio station WHIZ said, "but that's exactly what we're doing."

Land is vice president of the Community Improvement Corporation of Zanesville and Muskingum County. The organization is referred to as Z-I-P, Zanesville Improvement Program, and its purpose is to put zip back into Zanesville area industry.

The real punch in the project will be an industrial fund which will be available to industries interested in locating here.

The whole idea was conceived less than a year ago when five businessmen flew to Scranton, Pa., to see what that city had done there.

"The five men had as diverse interests as you could find," Land recalled, "but when we got back we all were in agreement that we could do something to help ourselves."

A few weeks later, 28 more businessmen flew to Scranton to get more information on that city's industrial development efforts. Subsequently, ZIP was organized.

The corporation received its charter last November. Now it is on the verge of a drive to set up the loan fund from which industries will be able to draw for construction.

All officers of the corporation are donating their time, but eventually a full-time professional director will be hired to sell Zanesville to industry. But, unlike many similar projects Zanesville will have cash to go along with its transportation and utility assets.

"We may even build a building ourselves which could be used for industry," G. Ronald Dice, president of the corporation, explained. Dice is secretary of the Zanesville Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Local civic leaders also are hoping that a bill before the current session of the General Assembly passes. That measure would allow the state to loan a percentage of construction costs to new industries in the Buckeye State.

"But even if this doesn't pass, we'll still be in a position to help industry get started here," Dice said. "We just won't be able to do quite as much."

The George S. May Co. of Chicago, a consulting firm, drew up the 100-page plan for Zanesville and now it's up to Zanesville to put it into action.

Doing things for themselves is nothing new for the 39,000 residents here.

Zanesville reached its ebb about six years ago. Sewer systems were archaic, streets were avenues of patches and chuck-holes, schools were overcrowded and out of date, and hospital space was limited.

That's when residents went to work. The City Council established a 1 per cent income tax and immediately started rebuilding.

The tax drew howls of indignation and a referendum was demanded. The tax was approved and reapproved at a later election.

More than $3 million has been raised for building hospitals, and major school levy has not been defeated here in 15 years.

Last spring the privately owned transit company announced it was closing because of lack of revenue. Again, Zanesville went to work.

Some $34,000 was raised by public sale of stock and the residents bought the company. The money came from businessmen, bus drivers and pensioners. Even school children pooled their money for a $10 share. The buses continue to operate.

No goal has been set for the industrial fund, but ZIP officials noted that Scranton raised nearly $3 million over a 10-year period.

"People keep saying, 'Let's bring in some new industries,'" Land said. "This is a little hard to do when every town in the country is trying to do the same thing."

"But now we'll be able to put out money where our mouth is," ZIP is still new here. But enthusiasm bubbles over from just about everyone from Richard W. Pruden executive director of the Chamber of Commerce the first to suggest investigating Scranton's program down to a barber in Ken Williams' barber shop who commented:

"I don't know too much about it yet but if it helps Zanesville I'm all for it."

Eighteen ladies were present Tuesday evening when the May Pritchard Circle of the First Christian Church met at the Morgan house.

Miss Helen Gillis, president, presided at the business meeting. An invitation from the women of the Salem Christian Church to attend their "Friendship Night," Wednesday, March 27, was accepted by the local group.

Mrs. Raymond Moore was the program leader, continuing the study "Rim of Eastern Asia". Mrs. Moore and her husband are foster parents for a Korean child, and she read letters they have received from her and showed picture slides of Korea.

Worship leader was Mrs. Lawrence Snow. Mrs. John Schnader sang two solos, accompanied by Mrs. Roy Welsh.

Hostesses were Mr. Moore and Mr. Wilbur Hawthorne.

The next meeting April 2, Mrs. Earl Foster and Mrs. Ray Alexander will be the hostesses.

WOMEN'S SOCIETY of Christian Service of the First Methodist church were guests Tuesday of the W.S.C.S. of the Winona Methodist Church.

Mrs. Francis Hawkins presided at the business meeting and introduced the program. Mrs. Hawkins, formerly of Elkton, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Roush of W. Lincoln Way.

There were 24 ladies in the Lisbon group.

Mrs. George Nace Jr. of N. Park Place entertained members of the Twentieth Century Club Wednesday for dessert bridge.

Prizes were received by Mrs. Jack Williams and Mrs. Edwin Bucher.

The club will meet March 21 at the home of Mrs. Robert Leggett of W. Lincoln Way.

WAYNE HOME COUNCIL members attended the knitting class Tuesday at the home of Mrs. George Weikart of Leetonia. Mrs. Leonard Smith of East Palestine was the instructor.

Those who attended were Mrs.

Walter Rice, Mrs. Edgar Conn, Mrs. Lawrence Bush, Mrs. Earl Hamilton, Mrs. Rose McKarns and daughter Charlene.

The cake decorating course will be continued at the next meeting of the council March 20 at the home of Mrs. James Ewing of Salineville Road.

Lisbon Coin Club met Tuesday at the Democratic headquarters, with 34 members and four guests present.

Prizes went to Phillip Carnes, Joe Pappas, Raymond Moore, John Bartholomew and William Davidson.

Robert Kelm was in charge of the refreshments.

The next meeting is April 2.

THE CHRISTIAN Men's Fellowship of Columbiana, Carrollton, Stark and Tuscarawas counties will meet Sunday at the First Christian church here for the annual spring rally. Registration will begin at 2:30 p.m.

Richard Walton is district president and Jack Stockman, secretary. Both are from Lisbon. Election of officers will be held.

Guest speaker will be the Rev. Richard Felton, representative of the state office. His topic, "Should the Church and Government be Partners or Ignore Each Other?" Ladies of the Christian Women's Fellowship will serve the dinner at 5:45.

Those from Lisbon who attended the annual inspection of the Royal Arch masons of East Palestine Tuesday were Arthur Tritten, worshipful master of New Lisbon Lodge No. 65, F. and A.M., E. G. Heilbronner, Walter Cope and Wayne Calhoun.

The United States has approximately 110 million persons of voting age.

THOUGHTFUL ROCKEFELLER—New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was pictured like this at Conference on Teenage Drinking in Albany, N. Y., recently. Rockefeller who appears on the national scene as a front-runner for next year's Republican presidential nomination, is deep in brow-furrowing political trouble in his home state. Chief source of the Republican concern is the furor Rockefeller kicked up by asking for a $109.5-million increase in motor vehicle and other state license charges.

Topics of Interest To Farmers; Notes About Meetings

Beef Producers To Meet

The Columbiana-Mahoning beef producers will hold their annual winter meeting at the Willow Grove Grange Hall March 14 at 7 p.m., according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

George Wilson of the animal science department, Ohio State University, will be the guest speaker. Wilson teaches the beef production course at the university and is in charge of the Ohio State University beef herd. His topic will be, "What's New in the Beef Industry," and his talk will cover new developments in management and discuss research underway in beef production.

The event was planned by the Columbiana-Mahoning Beef Committee in cooperation with the cooperative extension service. Richard Cope, Leetonia RD 1, is chairman of the committee.

New Books at Salem Public Library

FICTION

THE QUALITY OF MERCY by Margaret Culkin Banning. A Minnesota town forms most of the background for the story of three generations of a family. Paige Rice makes his way to the top from obscure origins. His only child, Faith wants to marry an impecunious doctor. She has to wait for her father's death to do this, we then follow the story of Faith's daughter. There are a good many sub-plots and of course a lot of action and the result will continue to please Miss Banning's regular fans.

STREET WHERE THE HEART LIES by Ludwig Bemelmans. The street of the title is, of course, in Paris. Even more than the usual amount of nonsense goes on in the story, which concerns Gala the strip-teaser, the American Professor, and their friends and neighbors.

A FORTUNE IN DIMES by Mary Carter. A group of wealthy youngsters in Southern California and the aimless way they live—the resultant discontent is pictured in an entertaining yet sharp manner by a new novelist.

WHERE'S DADDY? by William Roos. What happens to a crack writer of Madison-Avenue advertising when he quits his job to stay at home and write the great American novel. The events are most unlikely, but good for quite a few laughs.

THE HUNTER AND THE HORNS by W. H. Canaway. An Englishman among the Arabs and the many adventures he finds when he tries to change their ways.

ISLAND DOCTOR by Isabel Cabot. A very satisfactory light novel for those who like their stories about doctors to be romantic.

Mystery: TECHNIQUE FOR TREACHERY by Selden Truss. When murder is added to treason, the entire police force of London is upset.

Western:

WESTWARD THE MONITORS ROAR by Todhunter Ballard. Not a single cowboy, but plenty of thieves trying to steal their way to ownership of a gold mine.

Science Fiction:

ANALOG I edited by John W. Campbell. Eight science fiction stories taken from the magazine Analog.

Indians Are Counting On Alvis For 3rd Base Duty

Scouts Praise Tribe Rookie

Hit 25 Home Runs During '62 Season

By CHUCK SUCH
(Special to Salem News)
TUCSON — One of the most likable young men in the Cleveland Indians camp this spring is Max Alvis, heir-apparent to the third base position.

The sandy-haired former University of Texas baseball star is well aware of the fine opportunity confronting him.

"This is a good chance for me," Alvis stated. "I only hope I can produce. I know I didn't do well last season when the Indians brought me up. But I didn't feel good at the plate. I tried not to press but I know I was pressing."

"It wasn't that the major league pitching was better. I saw the ball well. I just didn't hit it," Alvis continued.

"PITCHERS IN the majors are much smarter but they don't throw any harder than those in the minors. They do have better control."

"I certainly got worked over by some of those pitchers. I recall Whitey Ford (of Yankees) in particular," Alvis said. "He changed speeds on me and gave me a lot of breaking stuff."

Manager Birdie Tebbetts is impressed with Alvis' reputation around the circuit.

"This kid has some mighty fine credentials," Tebbetts said. "Only recently, I was talking to Rosy Ryan of the San Francisco Giants and he told me he thought Alvis was going to make my club. I asked him about Alvis' hitting. He told me that's what he liked best about the kid — his hitting — but I may have to be patient with him at the plate."

"WE KNOW that Joe Adcock is a slow starter, Jerry Kindall hasn't hit for high average in the majors and Tony Martinez is a question mark at the plate. If I have to be patient with Alvis, we go to bat with four outs before we even start the game. That's why Woodie Held is a good guy to have around," Tebbetts added.

"But I know one thing, the reports I hear on Alvis come from scouts of other teams and they rate him very high," Tebbetts concluded.

One sports magazine already has predicted that Alvis will be the rookie of the year in the American League this year.

"I can only do my best," Alvis said. "I hope it's good enough to make this team. There's only one place to play and that's in the big leagues."

The 25-year-old third baseman was a $40,000 bonus baby.

Why did he sign with the Indians?

"IT SEEMED the Indians wanted me more than the other clubs," Alvis said. "Then I also was influenced because they needed a third baseman."

In four years in the minors, Alvis never had a bad season. "Actually, I never had a bad year although I was hurt two years ago," Alvis said. "I fractured a finger and then my wrist. But last year, I came back well. Those 25 home runs were the most I've ever hit in one season. I was just meeting the ball well."

Alvis, who resembles Gil McDougald the ex-Yankee, batted .297 his freshman year in pro ball. His second season, he batted .343 but fell off to .272 at Salt Lake City in 1961 as he was plagued by injuries.

Last year at Salt Lake, his batting average was .319 with 91 RBIs, 25 home runs, 35 doubles and 11 triples.

LATE IN THE season, he played in 12 games with the Tribe, batting .216 in 51 trips to the plate.

"I think it's easier to play in the major leagues," Alvis opined. "You get a lot of help from the manager, coaches and the other players. In the minors, it's pretty much an individual effort."

Alvis is married to the former Honey Eddy, who hails from his native Jasper, Texas. They have a three-year-old son, Max Jr. and are expecting another addition in June.

Mrs. Alvis will return to Jasper as soon as spring camp breaks up. The Indians are hoping Alvis is their regular third baseman.

Salem Boosters Club Won't Meet Tonight

The Salem Boosters Club has cancelled its meeting at the Memorial Building scheduled for tonight.

The group will hold a session next week, however, announces President Calvin Filler.

MORE SOCK FOR INDIANS AT FIRST BASE — Joe Adcock (right) and Fred Whitfield, (left) give the Cleveland Indians two men at first base who hit a total of 37 home runs in the National League last season.

Clay Is Favored To Defeat Jones

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The Louisville Lark was rated just even money for the battle of the bards in Greenwich Village today. For next Wednesday night's fight in Madison Square Garden, Cassius Clay rates as the 2-1 favorite over Doug Jones.

Just in case you've been at the South Pole and haven't heard Cassius, the Louisville Lark and Cassius the Great are one and the same.

"They're gonna fall quick," said Cassius, taking in Jones, the bearded beatnik, heavyweight champion Sonny Liston, and all anti clay people in one swoop.

On May 13, 1955, Mickey Mantle hit three home runs into the center field bleachers at Yankee Stadium. Two came while batting left-handed. The Yankees beat Detroit, 5-2.

Irrepressible Cassius was scheduled to joust with the pro poets of the Bohemian set in a poetry-reading free-for-all in a Greenwich Village bistro at noon.

"I've got an epic poem all ready for them," blared Cassius. The Lark declined — for a change — to offer a precontest reading.

Cassius, however, offered his latest poem on Jones.

It goes like this:
"Jones likes to mix
"So I will let it go six
"If he talks jive
"I'll cut it to five
"And if he talks some more
"I'll reduce it to four

"I'll cut it to two
"And if you want some fun
"I'll cut it to one
"And if he don't want to fight
"He can stay home that night."
Down in Pleasantville, N.J., Jones had one comment:
"What did he say?"

Church Cage League Rescheduled Games

All Class "D" and Class "E" Church League basketball games scheduled for the Junior High School on March 9, will be played at St. Paul's gymnasium at the same respective times that they were originally scheduled.

Because of the Science Fair at the Junior High School, the games had to be moved in order that the season could end within the schedule limits of the church basketball league.

Colts' Relief Pitcher Also Texas Pastor

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

APACHE JUNCTION, Ariz. (AP)—A Bible in one hand, a baseball in the other, Russ Kemmerer is equally at home in the pulpit as he is on the mound.

The 32-year-old relief pitcher of the Houston Colts is associate pastor of the Bethany Methodist Church in Houston. He is studying to become an ordained minister at the University of Houston, where he will return for his church duties in October.

"I hope to obtain my bachelor of divinity degree in two years," Kemmerer said today. "I am majoring in philosophy of religion, New Testament and am taking a course in sociology."

As a pastor, Kemmerer is qualified to take the pulpit and he already has given a number of sermons since he embraced the church four years ago. He preached at a Methodist church here last Sunday, then went to Geronimo Field and took his turn on the mound in an intra-squad game.

The 6-foot-2, 200-pound right-hander has always been interested in youngsters and in a way that's how he started in the ministry.

"I think it was in 1958 that I first began thinking seriously about the ministry," Kemmerer said. "Hoping to prepare myself for the time when I'd have to leave baseball. I tied my hand in various other fields but all were unsatisfactory. Religion seemed to be the ultimate answer."

Kemmerer, who had attended the University of Pittsburgh, enrolled at Illinois Wesleyan at Bloomington, Ill., and studied religion at the U. of Houston after the Chicago White Sox sold him to the Colts in June of 1962.

Wildlife Division Uses New System To Determine Where Fishing Is Best

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—What is "good" fishing? Usually, fish management men in the Division of Wildlife can predict when a new lake will reach its peak in numbers of quality fish. Ordinarily this comes about the third year after the lake has been impounded.

Battle Santa Clara Saturday Night

Dons Seek League Title, NCAA Spot

By JIM HACKLEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

San Francisco's Dons, once the basketball kings of their league, are just one step away from the West Coast Athletic Conference throne room—in line for a crown they haven't worn in four years.

The Dons downed San Jose State Wednesday night 51-46, setting up a showdown with Santa Clara for the WCAC title and the conference's berth in the NCAA tournament. The co-leaders to into Saturday night's match at San Francisco with 9-2 records.

This marks the best showing by San Francisco since 1958, when the Dons captured their fourth straight WCAC title with a 12-0 conference record.

Also on Wednesday night, Marquette won at Creighton 74-68. Villanova took a 71-64 victory at Seton Hall. Dayton scored at home over Canisius 75-64. Louisville romped at Eastern Kentucky 96-78 and Missouri nailed down sixth place in the Big Eight, beating Nebraska 84-72 on the Mizzou floor.

Villanova, Marquette and Canisius are all bound for the National Invitation Tournament in New York, starting March 14.

Eleven teams won berths in the NAIA tourney, which will be held at Kansas City March 11-16. Wednesday night's qualifiers were Central Connecticut, Western Illinois, Indiana State, West Virginia State, Athens, Rider, Parsons and Peru, Neb.

Tony Kubek Improves Both Infield, Outfield For Yanks

By BON GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

Tony Kubek, as most people know is a young man who makes his living as a shortstop for the New York Yankees. He's a very good one, too, and most experts agree he improves the Yankee infield.

This, of course, is not unusual for a shortstop. That's what they're paid to do.

Kubek, however, may be the only shortstop in captivity who improves the outfield.

Which is hardly good news to the vast legions of Yankee-haters, particularly when it is considered that the New York outfield is made up, partly, of Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris.

And, worse news to the rest of the American League, the slick shortstop has served notice he's ready for fulltime duty with the defending world champions.

Kubek, 26, lashed two home runs at Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Wednesday, prompting Manager Ralph Houk to remark:

"Having Tony right from the start will steady the infield and enable us to make more double plays. His bat, of course, gives us increased punch."

Kubek was on active duty with the Army most of last season, returning to the line-up in August and reclaiming his shortstop job from rookie Tom Tresh. He hit .314 in 45 games.

Tresh moved to left field, a position he had never played before, and was an outstanding success. He fielded spectacularly, hit 20 home runs and had a .286 average.

And, freed from shortstop by the Ku bekrturn, he combined with Maris and Mantle to give the Yankees probably the top out field in the league.

Dayton Clouts Canisius 75-64

By The Associated Press

The Golden Griffins of Canisius, who will compete in the National Invitation Basketball Tournament at New York, probably are thankful that defending champion Dayton will not be there. The Flyers defeated Canisius with relative ease Wednesday night at Dayton 75-64.

Two seniors playing their last home game were heroes as the Flyers won their 16th game against nine losses. Don Mueller led the scoring with 23 points—his career high—and Ron Anello, a substitute, added 12.

Dayton took the lead at 12-11 and held it throughout, leading at one point by 16.

Dayton will not play in the NIT this year because of an NCAA suspension.

In other games, Don Gacey scored 27 points to spark John Carroll to a 69-63 victory over Washington & Jefferson at Washington Pa., and Western Reserve coasted to a 77-66 decision over Eastern Michigan in Cleveland to claim its fifth straight win.

Stan Musial of the Cardinals has hit 463 home runs, sixth best mark in baseball history.

What happens in the lake from that time on depends upon so many factors that it is purely conjecture, the division says, to say the lake will continue to be good or not.

But the division has established a set of standards by which it can determine whether fish are desirable or undesirable. The dividing line follows:

Bluegills and similar type sunfish, 6 inches; white crappies, 8; black crappies, 7; bass, 9; bull heads, 8; channel catfish, 12; carp, 12; sunners, 12; walleyes, 13, and yellow perch, 7.

Best Time is May-June

In using these sizes as measuring devices last year, Mark White, district fish management Supervisor, and his assistant, George Billy, found some interesting facts in their creel census summary. One of these showed that May and June were the top fishing months.

Some other facts they learned: While Burr Oak Lake has received acclaim as an outstanding bass and bluegill lake, the quality of crappies there is even better.

Many small fish were caught at Dillon Reservoir early last year but that by the fall of 1962 the bass fishing was good. This lake could hit its peak this year.

Dow Lake May Hit Peak

Dow Lake could fit well into this category also, the division men say, especially in bass and bluegills. Hocking Lake has, in addition to some fine muskies, excellent bass fishing and fair bluegills. Crappie fishing there is rated fair.

Seneca Lake, which was rated an outstanding crappie lake a number of years ago, has done an about face. While large numbers of crappies are taken there each year, they run about 4 1/2 undesirable ones for each desirable. Bluegill fishing there is rated good. Tappan Lake seems fairly consistent for all species.

Columbiana Battles South For Bracket Title Friday

Warriors Sport Strong Defense

Columbiana Enters With 16-4 Mark

A determined bunch of Columbiana kids will go after their third straight victory along the tournament trail when they clash with Youngstown South in the Class AA Sectional bracket final at South Field House Friday at 8 p.m.

Cardinal Mooney wrapped up the first bracket championship with a convincing 63-47 victory over highly-touted Hubbard 63-47 at South Wednesday night.

The Clippers, co-champs of the tough Tri-County League, have rolled to an impressive 16-4 record this season. The Warriors are 12-6 on the campaign.

COLUMBIANA STEPPED into Class AA competition this season for the first time in the history of the school, and the Clippers fitted into the better opposition with poise and confidence and proceeded to win.

Coach Rich Berryman's aggregation lost twice to Lisbon during the season by scores of 54-44 and 44-34. The Clippers also dropped a 58-51 decision to Springfield Local's powerhouse in the opening game.

In its first two tournament tilts, Columbiana knocked off Leavittsburg 79-60 and upset Youngstown Chaney 62-61 on a last second shot by senior Dale Murphy.

Tallest boy to start for Columbiana will be Fred Gosney 6' 3" senior. Murphy is a 6-0 athlete. Rick Perrin 6-1 junior, Phil Burbick and Jim Ward 5-10 senior complete the lineup.

PERRIN, MURPHY and Ward have been consistent double-figure scorers in Columbiana's 20 contests.

In tournament action, the Clippers have been averaging 70 points, compared to 60 points a game tallied by the opposition.

Youngstown South suffered a humiliating 107-71 setback at the hands of the Salem Quakers Jan. 29.

The Warriors have beaten Boardman 35-30 and Liberty 32-29 in their journey action, all of it on their own home court.

STARTING FOR SOUTH will be seniors Ernie McElroy 5-11, Bob Beach 6-3, Henry Orr 6-2, and juniors John Turner 6-0 and Jerome Straughter 6-0.

Columbiana posted victories during the regular campaign over North Lima 66-47, Louisville 53-50 and 70-39, Beaver Local 66 - 49, Canfield 48-43, East Palestine 74-53 and 63-45, Sebring 83-45 and 63-45, Minerva 46-40, Poland 47-36 and 64-60 and Leetonia twice. The Clippers dropped verdicts to Springfield Local, Lisbon twice and Minerva 59-52.

CHAMPION AT DEFENDING, TOO

Governor Barnett Opposes Entry

Mississippi State's NCAA Path May Be Blocked Again

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Obstacles continued to mount today in the path of Mississippi State's participation in the National Collegiate basketball tournament with Gov. Ross Barnett firmly in opposition to the desegregated competition.

"Personally, I feel that it is not for the best interest of Mississippi State University, the State of Mississippi, or either of the race," the governor said in a statement Wednesday that ended five days of waiting for his word.

Mississippi State earned a place in the NCAA championships by winning the Southeastern Conference championship, a title it has won or shared four of the last five years. Each time in the past five years, Mississippi State has declined the invitation to compete because of the state's unwritten law against competition against teams with Negro players.

If Mississippi State goes into the tournament, it will play its first game in the Midwest Regional at East Lansing, Mich., March 15 against the winner of first round game matching Loyola of Chicago and the Ohio Valley Conference champion. Loyola has several Negro players including All America Jerry Harkness. Loyola, ranked fifth in the country, will be favored to beat the OVC champion—either Morehead, Ky., or Tennessee Tech, setting up a game with Mississippi State. Most of the other teams in the 25-team NCAA tournament have Negro players. Cincinnati, the defending NCAA champion, has three Negroes on its starting five.

If Mississippi State follows past custom and decline, runner-up Georgia Tech will take its place

Berlin, Coca-Cola Triumph In City Loop Cage Clashes

Berlin posted a 57-40 victory over Bud Shaffer Ford, while Coca-Cola chalked up a 44-42 decision over Salem Tech in City Basketball League competition at the Memorial Building Wednesday night.

Fad Music (5-1) was awarded a forfeit over Lisbon Merchants (4-2).

Berlin led all the way against Shaffer's by quarter scores of 26-13, 34-20 and 44-23.

Denver Gattrell connected for 15 points to pace Berlin. Dick Confoey collected 14 markers and Dean Richards had 12. Brintzenhoff tallied 15 markers for the losers. Gene Secest chalked up 10. Shaffer dropped its sixth in a row.

Coca Cola rallied in the final period to triumph. After a 14-13 lead in the initial period, the winners fell behind 25-21 at intermission and 36-33 at the end of the third stanza.

Jerry Flickinger paced the winners to their second win in six starts with 13 points. Andy Safkow chipped in with 11 and Jerry Greiner had 10.

Arv Breniser took scoring honors for the losers (2-4) with 18 points. Jan Lendak netted 11.

Wittenberg's Al Thrasher Named Little All-American

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP) — Roger Strickland of Jacksonville (Fla.) University and Al Thrasher of Wittenberg University, Springfield Ohio, top the 1963 Little All-America college basketball team named today by The Associated Press.

Completing the first team are Mike Wisneski of St. Norbert, West De Pere, Wis., Bill Witconis from the University of Scranton (Pa.) and Jim Boutin of Lewis and Clark, Portland, Ore.

Strickland, a 6-foot-5 senior, is a repeater from the 1962 Little A-A and is considered the best all-around player among the small colleges in the South. Al Thrasher, a 6-2 junior, sparked the once-beaten Wittenberg Tigers to No. 1 ranking in The Associated Press small college poll as well to the championship of the Ohio Conference and a berth in the NCAA small college tourney.

Wisneski, a 5-9 senior is the smallest player on the first team.

Witconis, a 6-3 junior, is a top scorer and rebounder and has shown his worth against such major teams as Villanova, Temple, Canisius, Providence and Seton Hall.

Boutin, also a junior and 6-5, is rated among the best small college players in the Pacific Northwest.

Bill Hardin of Hampden-Sydney, Willie Reed of Grambling, Ken Gaylors of Arkansas Tech, Waite Bellamy of Florida A&M and Bill Giessing of Southeast Missouri make up a second team in the voting by 54 sports writers and radio-TV broadcasters.

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—Long hitting Arnold Palmer, who fired a six-under-par 66 in Wednesday's pro-amateur is favored to win the $25,000 Pensacola Open tournament starting today.

Palmer, who said he could have shot 62 or 63 Wednesday, took home a total of $510.

The tournament will be played over the par 36-36-72, 6,412-yard Pensacola Country Club course.

One of golfdom's big three, Jack Nicklaus, was forced to withdraw Tuesday when his physician called him back to Columbus, Ohio, for further treatment of the bursitis that has been bothering him all winter.

Nicklaus, one of the favorites in the tourney, left as Palmer's biggest challengers Gary Player, runnerup in 1961, and Bo Wininger, who took $6,400 top money last week in New Orleans for the second straight year.

Cuban Confusion Takes 3 Directions

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cuban confusion takes three directions. What really happened in the Cuban invasion of 1961? What's the United States going to do about it?

President Kennedy could clear up the first but is reluctant. He probably doesn't yet have the answer to the other two. So Cuba will stay high in the news, but foggy.

The more confused the news, the more the Kennedy administration stands to be hurt by bewildered public reaction.

Right after the American-backed invasion of their homeland by Cuban refugees fell on its face two years ago, Kennedy said he thought the facts of the matter would come out in due time.

They've been coming out in bits ever since, including Kennedy's announcement, shortly after the invasion collapsed in the Bay of Pigs, that he took full responsibility for it.

As some of the facts leak out even language, which seemed to have no particular significance at the time, takes on a special meaning.

For example, on April 12, 1961, a few days before the invasion, Kennedy said:

"This government will do everything it can to make sure that there are no Americans involved in any action inside Cuba." Now the word "inside" looks a lot more meaningful than it did then.

Later it was disclosed, but in a confused way, that four Americans were killed while taking part in the invasion. It seems, although it hasn't been made clear, they were not taking part "inside" Cuba but outside it over water.

To add to the obscurity of what they were doing, there's one version which says they were flying combat planes and another which says they were flying a cargo plane.

And Wednesday Kennedy, for the first time, confirmed the fact that any Americans took a direct part in the invasion at all, although, if he had revealed it earlier, there wouldn't have been any surprise now.

He refused to give details but said the men "were serving their country."

A few hours later Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus said 12 Arkansas National Guardsmen were recruited by the federal government for the invasion and some of the few combat missions at the Bay of Pigs although all are home now.

Still later Maj. Gen. W. P. Wilson, head of the Air National Guard, said that to his knowledge no Guardsmen from Arkansas were involved in flying combat at the Bay of Pigs.

More of the invasion facts will probably dribble out, adding more confusion, unless Kennedy decides to tell the full story or at least a lot more than has been revealed.

Still a puzzle—although Kennedy may not be able to answer this one—is why the Soviets still have an estimated 15,000 to 17,000 troops in Cuba.

They could be there for any one of a number of reasons:

To protect Fidel Castro from revolution; to train his Cubans; to discourage an American invasion since an attack on them would probably mean war with Russia; or maybe train Communists from other Latin-American countries in fighting so they can go home and have a revolution.

Last Friday, John A. McCone, U.S. intelligence chief, said 1,000 to 1,500 men from other Latin-American nations went to Cuba in 1962 for sabotage and guerrilla training and more have arrived this year.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, despite doubts raised in Congress, insists Soviet Premier Khrushchev has removed the missiles which caused last October's crisis and that Cuba now has no weapons for offensive war.

Some questions have been raised in Congress. What's in all those caves in Cuba? Wednesday the Army's top intelligence officer, Maj. Gen. Alva R. Fitch, said Soviet military supplies, including ammunition, vehicles and aircraft probably are stored in thousands of caves in Cuba—but not offensive missiles or bombers.

This leaves the most important question. What to do about Castro? The administration has given no public answer to that. Invasion seems out of the question, since that might mean war with Russia. Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., called for a blockade. Wednesday Kennedy said a blockade would mean war.

PUBLISHER RE-ELECTED

'Doughnut' Will Shine In Rain

EARTHBOUND NIMBUS — Technicians at G.E.'s space center in Valley Forge, Pa., test control system of the Nimbus satellite. Once in orbit, the device may give better hints about tomorrow's weather picture.

By WARD CANNEL
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

VALLEY FORGE, PA. — After five years of count-down and blast-off, the U. S. space effort is finally coming down to earth with a flying doughnut currently in laboratory tests here.

This new consumer-oriented satellite is called Nimbus and will be hung from a sky hook 500 miles aloft to watch our planet's weather-cloud formation and density, wind velocity and direction, precipitation and humidity.

The information gathered by Nimbus' television cameras will be received by a ground station at Fairbanks, Alaska, and communicated to a waiting nation via the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Just how crucial the weather forecast is to the American civilization is impossible to calculate. In addition to the millions of people who stay up long past a reasonable bedtime to catch the late weather report, whole industries are geared to tomorrow's rain or shine.

Fuel oil dealers, air-conditioning servicemen, sanitation departments, air lines, bus lines and trainmen schedule their day by what the weatherman says.

Picnics are planned, classes are canceled, wedding ceremonies are hurried on the basis of the forecast. Battles are postponed.

In New York, for example, a city-wide chain of bakeries rewrites its daily recipes for the weather. A rainy day means that mother is house-bound with the kids, leaving father with the job of picking up the dessert on the way home. And father, it turns out, usually picks up the richest, gooyest dessert he can find.

The U.S. is so weather-nutsy, in fact, that many insurance companies now offer a vacation policy that pays you for every rainy or sunny day during your holiday, depending on what you prefer.

This precipitation anxiety is of course, to be found in the National Aeronautic and Space Administration as well.

And so, we now have a half-dozen Tiros weather satellites floating around up there, yielding 80 to 95 per cent usable cloud-and-wind information.

"Nimbus," says a spokesman for General Electric who is testing the 600-pound doughnut at Valley Forge, "will do a lot better than that. New mechanisms will keep it pointing always at the earth in its 103-minute orbit."

Nimbus is scheduled for launching late this year.

But don't suppose for a minute that Nimbus is the answer, either. NASA plans also call for Aerons in the near future—three synchronous satellites keeping every bit of earth weather under surveillance every minute.

"Just think of it," the satellite man said. "You'll never get caught in an unexpected rainstorm again."

He would not, however, take a little even money bet on it.

In the Service

Thirteen area youths enlisted in the Army here during February. Recruiter Rocco Minniti reports. Larry D. Wilms, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wilms, RD 1, Leetonia, joined for engineer equipment maintenance. He is a 1961 high school graduate of Leetonia.

Charles Edwin Hutcheson, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elmer Hutcheson of Grant St., Lisbon, enlisted for communications center operations field. He attended Lisbon High.

James P. Larkins, 22, son of Mrs. Delia Larkins of Ellsworth, chose to be trained in communications.

Ralph E. Oyster, 18, son of Mrs. Marcella Longobardi, RD 2, Beloit, and Kenneth R. Hardy, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hardy, RD 1, Homeworth, chose the 14-week course in automotive repair given at Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Md.

Thomas G. McLaughlin, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey McLaughlin, RD 1, Homeworth, enlisted for engineer equipment maintenance.

All men enlisted for a three-year period and were sent to Ft. Jackson, S.C. for further processing.

And so, we now have a half-dozen Tiros weather satellites

"The lightning struck," he said soberly. "Looking back, I'm not sure whether my big single break came on Steve Allen's show two years ago, or on Jack Paar later. But suddenly people wanted to hire me and were offering more and more money.

"But where do I go from here? I don't think television audiences like a stand-up comedian as much as they do other types. They want more action and variety—there's not much to look at when we're working."

Mason, like every performer on the way up, years to be what he calls "a more complete star." That means—as it usually does—he'd like a TV situation comedy series, and some acting parts in motion pictures. (At the moment he fervently hopes that he'll get a chance to be Red Skelton's summer replacement, perhaps teamed with Carmel Quinn in a sort of "Abie's Irish Rose" show.)

The road of the stand-up comic is rocky.

"If you're on television often, the hunt for fresh material is tough," Mason complained. "I think you must have new monologues for each television appearance—and if you've used it once, you can't use it again anywhere for at least a year. And once you've used material on television, you can't use it again in the clubs. The worst thing that can happen to a comic is to have people say, 'I've heard his jokes so often, they aren't funny any more.'"

Comedian Alan King is apparently the official stand-in for Kirby Moore and Durward Kirby. King will be substitute host for Moore in April when the crew-cut star takes some time off, and will sit in for Kirby for the next two Sundays on "Candid Camera."

Fred MacMurray has had a change of heart and will, after all, be back in "My Three Sons" for another season.

Recommended tonight: "Perry Mason," CBS, 8 (Eastern Standard Time)—Raymond Burr returns to the series after a month absence for surgery; "Close-Up," ABC, 10-10:30—"The Irreplaceables," about East African animal conservation.

Rhodes Says No New Taxes In Next 2 Years

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P) — The General Assembly will receive a balanced budget calling for no new taxes in Ohio in the next two years, Gov. James A. Rhodes says.

The governor, speaking Wednesday night at a dinner meeting at the Second Biennial Legislative Conference of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce, added:

"We are attempting to create an atmosphere and environment so that you can expand your industries and bring new industries into Ohio."

The chief issue now is the economic development of Ohio, he said.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

There is a place down on Route 19 just south of Perry, Fla., on the west coast called Cheyenne Bar-B-Q Ranch. I have pictures of it which I have placed on the Board above the produce department.

To me this was the most interesting place I found on my trip. I didn't meet the owner but from a Florida State Patrolman who was eating there I got the information he is a very fine gentleman. He sure has gone to a lot of work bringing travelers something very interesting and unusual.

Scientists Say There May Be New Viruses

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Is there a new virus around?

It surely seems so to thousands of persons hit this winter by funny aches and pains and upsets, including bloody noses blamed on "the bloody virus."

Perhaps it's true that brand new viruses have popped up, and might even start appearing at a faster rate, says Dr. Robert Huebner of the National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases.

Scientists only recently identified most of 120 or more viruses known to cause colds, fevers, muscular aches and pains, diarrhea, coughs and runny noses—a great variety of mostly minor ailments.

Man is their target, and man has evolved and multiplied over thousands of years.

Biologically speaking, viruses had to evolve also—"They weren't all present the day man was kicked out of paradise," says Dr. Huebner, director of the institute's laboratory of infectious diseases in Bethesda, Md.

Influenza viruses change or mutate fairly frequently. Any flu vaccine has to incorporate the strain of virus blazing up into an epidemic.

Other respiratory and intestinal viruses also might be mutating during chain-reaction epidemics, reproducing more viruses in each person.

Something could go amiss in the genetic assembly line so that a slightly different virus is produced from time to time. With more than three billion people in the world now, the chances could be greater that a new virus could appear, Heubner explains.

There's no way yet to prove this. Peculiar illnesses this year could well be due to some old virus that hadn't been active in recent years in your locality.

This year, for example, in some eastern cities many people got bloody noses, beyond the expectation of slight bleeding due to injury to nasal membranes by colds, perhaps abetted by low humidity in heated houses.

These people got real nose-bleeds, sometimes along with coughs, muscular aches and intestinal upsets. One nose and throat specialist called it "the bloody virus."
